DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1- 23, and 44- 50 drawn to an isolated protein complex comprising a Tsg101 and an HIV GAG protein, composition, and a host cell comprising them, classified in class 530, subclass 402.
- II. Claim 24, drawn to a method to make an isolated protein complex comprising a Tsg101 and an HIV GAG protein, classified in class 435, subclass 68.1.
- III. Claim 25, drawn to a protein microarray comprising the isolated protein complex comprising a Tsg101 and an HIV GAG protein, classified in class 436, subclass 518.
- IV. Claim 26, drawn to a fusion protein comprising a Tsg101 and an HIV GAG protein, classified in class 530, subclass 350.
- V. Claim 27, drawn to an isolated nucleic acid encoding a fusion protein, classified in class 536, subclass 23.4.
- VI. Claims 28- 43, drawn to a method to select modulators of an interaction between a first protein and a second, classified in class 436, subclass 501.
- VII. Claims 51- 53, drawn to a method for providing a compound capable of interfering with an interaction between two proteins using atomic coordinates defining three-dimensional structure of the protein complex, classified in class 436, subclass 501.

VIII. Claims 54- 59, drawn to a method for selecting a compound capable of inhibiting a protein-protein interaction between a Tsg101 and an HIV GAG protein, classified in class 436, subclass 501.

IX. Claim 60, drawn to an antibody, classified in class 530, subclass 387.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I, III, IV, V, and IX are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to products with different chemical structures that have different functions and uses (antibody, nucleic acid, protein).

Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the proteins can be made by chemical synthesis, or recombinantly produced in cells.

Art Unit: 1648

Inventions I and VI, VIII are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product can be used in either of the two methods- to determine a modulator of interaction or to determine an inhibitor of interaction.

Inventions VI-VIII are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions they are drawn to different methods that have different starting materials or different steps or different functions of test compound.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, divergent search requirements, and different classifications, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
